This Week

As Labor Day approach next Monday, our weekly events will be ramping up as well. Here's what we've got going on this next week:

1. Sunday Morning Class - I will be running a class in the FAC at 9:30 Sunday morning. Anyone is welcome to join us, but it is taught with the knowledge that there are not adult or children's classes going on at the time. Because of this I am treating the class as an elective that will push the students to share their faith. We will have a topic each week that students will be expected to share a statement about. This week the topic is God. I have asked them to consider the following questions to help them write: 1. How would you describe God to someone else? 2. What does the Bible say about God? 3. Describe a time that God was most evident in your life. I'm really excited about going through this with the students and would love for adults to join us and provide their insights.

2. Girl's Devo - The girls will be meeting Tuesday night at 6 pm in the Fellowship Hall. Bring a blanket as they will have a picnic of sorts. There will be some finger foods provided, but you are more than welcome to bring your own if you are not comfortable sharing food. The girls will be spending the evening in prayer for the upcoming year.

3. Huddles - We will continue our study on the Holy Spirit, focusing on the new creation that it brings about in us. We will meet in the Fellowship Hall at 7 pm Wednesday. The FAC will be open beforehand at 6 pm for a Study Hall/Hangout.

I wanted to remind you to bring granola bars, beef sticks, peanut butter crackers, chapstick, tube socks, or handkerchiefs and put them in the basket outside my office.

There have been a few COVID cases in the schools, and this was expected. I know that this has taxed our education system. We typically say to pray for our educators, but I am going to go a step further and suggest that you reach out to your teachers and actively thank them for the work they are doing and show your appreciation. Because I guarantee they have heard any frustrations from the community.

As I close this week, please send me schedules if your kids are involved in any activities. We'd love to come watch them. Have a great weekend and I will see y'all Sunday!
